

MANDY MCGLONE

Associate Director | Sam's Fans

Bio: Mandy McGlone is the Associate Director at Sam's Fans. Mandy is a Project Manager and Project Director with over 25 years of tenure in the human services and non-profit field. Mandy has a B.A. from Denison University and a M.S. in Human Services Management from Franklin University. Mandy was a founding member of The Sam's Fans Board of Directors, and stepped off the Board to become a staff member in 2020. Mandy and Nikki have been best friends for over 35 years, and have been together through the brightest and darkest days in each other's lives. When Mandy said goodbye to Sam, she made a promise that she would take good care of Nikki and when Nikki decided that she wanted to honor Sam's legacy and love of music by starting a nonprofit, there was no question that Mandy would play an integral part in helping Nikki to get things underway. Years later, Mandy continues to help Nikki strategize, fundraise, implement projects and run the day-to-day operations of Sam's Fans.
